Rev Alistair Macrae is a Uniting Church minister of 40 years including congregational ministry, serving as Moderator of the Synod of Vic/Tas (2000-2003), inaugural Executive Director of the Uniting Church Centre for Theology and Ministry, and as National President of UCA (2009-2012). Deeply shaped as a teenager by a year living in the Taizé monastic community in France and the radical discipleship stream of theology and praxis, Alistair has long been committed to building creative bridges between prayer and activism, religion and politics, respect for the individual and the importance of community.
