

KNC General Secretary's Reflection on the 2026 Korean National Conference

Hello, 안녕하세요.

I am Rev Mike You, General Secretary of the Korean National Conference.

The six storytelling sessions we shared during this KNC in the theme “This is my story, this is my song” were very special. The time we spent sharing our personal stories with one another on the final night was also deeply meaningful.

And throughout the conference, we often sang old hymns and gospel songs together with all our hearts. These familiar songs brought back stories and memories that had been sleeping deep inside us for many years.

In the songs we sang together, there were memories of our childhood, times of tears, and stories of God’s calling and guidance.

As we listened to one another’s stories and sang together, we were reminded once again that our lives have not simply happened by chance. Each of our stories is a precious part of God’s much greater story.

The six guests who joined us from outside the KNC also deeply experienced and shared in the work of the Holy Spirit through our stories and our songs.

From the preparation of the KNC to these three days and two nights together, we have created another precious story in our lives.

The stories we heard, shared, and spoke about during this KNC were not simply our own personal stories. We had the precious opportunity to discover and acknowledge that our stories are connected to God’s story.

And our stories do not end here.

Now we will return to our own places and continue living our lives. And wherever we are, God will continue to write new stories in and through our lives.

Next year, in 2027, we will meet again at the KNC in Adelaide.

What stories will we share there?

What songs will we sing together?

And what new stories will God continue to write in our lives?

Rev Mike You

General Secretary, Korean National Conference

Minister, St Albans UC and Sydenham Caroline Springs UC